State's first turtle research centre still a distant dream

DWARAKA PRASAD PATNAIK, OP

Chhatrapur, Sept 14: The iconic Olive Ridley turtles, among the rarest of marine turtles globally, continue to choose Odisha's coastline—particularly the Rushikulya river mouth near Ganjam—as a favoured nesting ground. The area's climatic conditions are highly conducive for egg-laying, drawing large numbers of turtles each year.

This year, more than 8,00,000 Olive Ridley turtles arrived to nest setting a new record. Similarly, an uncountable number of hatchlings emerged from the nests to make their way into the sea. These natural phenomena continue to draw tourists here from across the state and country.

In an effort to protect and study these unique creatures, the Department of Forest, Environment and Climate Change proposed a first-of-its-kind Turtle Research Centre, to be established at Purunabandha near Ganjam. A 3.5-acre site was identified, and the foundation stone was laid March 6, 2024, by Sanjaya Kumar Swain, then chief conservator of forests, Berhampur Circle.

The proposed facility is ex-

Apart from stone laying, an entrance gate, and barbed-wire fencing, no significant development has occurred on the site pected to include a research hub for PhD scholars, a state-of-the-art museum, and comprehensive resources on the turtles' life cycle, habitat, and conservation. The centre is also intended to serve as an educational site for tourists, students, and researchers.

However, progress on the project has stalled. Aside from the laying of the foundation stone, the construction of an entrance gate, and the installation of barbed-wire fencing, no significant development has occurred on the site.

"We have completed whatever orders we had received from the higher authorities," said Khallikote Forest Ranger Dibya Shankar Behera. "A survey has already been conducted by a special team from Bhubaneswar."

Sources said a sanctioned amount of ₹2 crore remains unutilised.

With less than six months remaining before the next mass nesting season, uncertainty looms over when the construction will actually begin.

Youth goes missing at Sunapur beach

POST NEWS NETWORK

Chikiti, Sept 14: A youth went missing Sunday at Sunapur beach in Ganjam district while bathing in the sea with three of his friends.

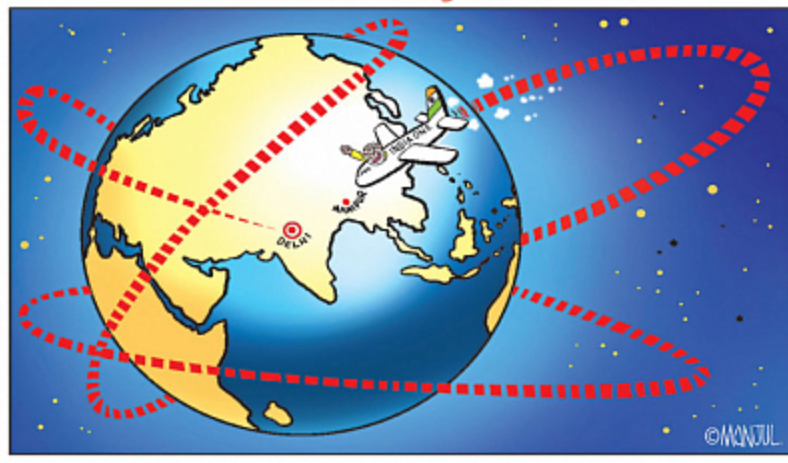

The missing youth has been identified as Amit Pradhan, 18, of Liakhai village under K Nuagaon panchayat in Chikiti block. Despite a search operation launched by the fire service, he had not been traced till Sunday evening.

Police said Amit and his friends Rajesh Pradhan, 19, Ashish Pradhan, 18, and Deepak Pradhan, 22, all residents of the same village, had travelled by bus to Sunapur beach for an outing. While bathing, the rising tide swept them away. Rajesh, Ashish and Deepak were rescued, but Amit could not return to shore.

The three survivors alerted local home guards, following which the Berhampur fire service and marine police rushed to the spot and launched a search.

Locals alleged that there were no safety measures in place at the beach. Earlier home guards had been deployed through the forest protection committee, they said claiming that at present none are stationed there. They also claimed that unauthorised individuals were collecting fees from visitors even though the beach remained poorly maintained.

Bikers abduct minor girl; probe on

POST NEWS NETWORK

Basudevpur, Sept 14: An 8-year-old girl was abducted Saturday night from outside her residence in Radhanathpur Adia village under Chandamani marine police limits of this block in Bhadrak district.

Police said two unidentified youths were lying in wait on the road in the dark when the girl stepped outside around 8pm to use the toilet. They allegedly forced her onto a motorcycle and fled.

The victim's elder sister saw the men taking her younger sibling away on the bike and raised an alarm. Family members and neighbours searched the area but failed to trace her, after which they informed Chandamani Marine police.

On the direction of Bhadrak Superintendent of Police (SP) Manoj Raut, police set up checkpoints across various routes in Basudevpur. Basudevpur IIC Lopamudra Nayak, Nayakani-dih IIC Rajlaxmi Nayak, Kasia Marine IIC Sabitri Panda and Chandamani Marine IIC Banani Behera led the operation.

SP Raut visited the village Sunday, met the girl's family and local residents, and directed officers to expedite the investigation. Bhadrak Sadar SDPO Bichitrnanda Sethi has been assigned to probe the case.

Police said efforts are underway to rescue the minor girl soon.

Kashinagar farmers suffer as Andhra ups Gotta barrage height

POST NEWS NETWORK

Paralakhemundi, Sept 14: Farmers in Kashinagar block of Gajapati district have reported heavy crop damage after rain-water inundated their paddy fields, with many blaming the increased height of the Gotta barrage in neighbouring Andhra Pradesh for the crop loss.

Reports said that about 200 farmers lost paddy cultivation on nearly 300 acres of farmlands after rain-swollen ponds and blocked drains caused floodwater to enter farmlands in Galibadi, Jddu and Bhupati Lakshimpur villages and Kashinagar NAC area.

Farmers alleged that Andhra Pradesh has violated its earlier agreement with Odisha by unilaterally raising the height of the barrage's concrete wall by 3 feet. The move has led to heavy silt deposition in the Vamsadhara riverbed near Kashinagar. As a result, rainwater no longer drains properly into the river and instead submerges farmlands.

The affected farmers met Kashinagar NAC executive officer Bhagabat Sahu and demanded compensation urging him to visit their farmlands and review the situation. NAC vice-chairman and local farmers' association secretary Raghuram Sahu also supported their demand during the discussion with the executive officer.

Kashinagar Citizens' Forum president Prashant Mishra warned that farmers will be forced to launch an agitation if the NAC fails to mitigate their sufferings and act on their demands. Senior resident Gopinath Choudhury recalled that a similar situation in 1980, when the Gotta barrage shutters were not opened, had triggered devastating floods in Kashinagar area.

Choudhury said the state government must remain vigilant to check Andhra Pradesh's anti-Odisha activities in border areas.

Pregnant minor rescued after family boots her out

POST NEWS NETWORK

Umerkote, Sept 14: A seven months pregnant unmarried minor girl was rescued Saturday by the Umerkote Integrated Child Development Project (ICDS) after her family and the accused boy's kin refused to shelter her.

Police said the 17-year-old girl, a resident of a village under Umerkote police limits, had been surviving by going door to door and eating whatever food villagers provided. A local Anganwadi worker reported the matter to Umerkote Child Development Project Officer Sanjukta Behera. Supervisor Chandrika Bag, acting on Behera's instructions, reached the village, where a meeting was held in the presence of the sarpanch and several residents. The supervisor later brought the girl to Umerkote. As the girl is pregnant, officials immediately produced her online before the Nabarangpur Child Welfare Committee.

On the committee's directive, she was placed at the Sakhi One Stop Centre in Nabarangpur. Authorities said a decision on her long-term rehabilitation has not yet been taken.

27 yrs on, landless pay taxes sans possession

Baripada: As many as 30 landless families in Akharshilla village under Kalapathura panchayat in Shamakhunta block of Mayurbhanj district have been paying taxes for the last 27 years despite lacking possession of the land. The state government had allotted 4 decimals of land to more than 30 families in 1998; however, they are yet to receive the possession. For the past 27 years, the families have been paying land tax on the recorded plots. However, they remain excluded from housing schemes and other benefits because the land has not been demarcated or handed over to them. The matter came to the fore when the representatives of the affected families met the District Collector to highlight the issue. Villagers said repeated visits to the revenue inspector and tehsil offices seeking land maps and identification have yielded no results. "As we have not been given possession, we are being deprived of housing schemes," said villagers Sunaram Singh, Bhagirath Hansda, Sanatan Singh, Mangal Singh and Chunuram Singh. The villagers warned that if the problem is not resolved soon, they will be forced to launch an agitation.

Khandabasa festival celebrated

Bhawanipatna/Junagarh: The annual Khandabasa festival of Goddess Lankeshwari, the presiding deity of Junagarh in Kalahandi district, was celebrated with grandeur Sunday in the presence of Kalahandi Maharaja Ananta Pratap Deo. Devotees turned out in large numbers for a direct glimpse of the Goddess. At 6:15pm, the priest carried the patakhand (sword) of the goddess from the temple in a colourful procession to a temporary hut near the Dak Bungalow. Another khanda from Budharaja temple was also brought there. Goldsmith Balakrishna Achari conducted rituals and purification of both swords before they were returned to their respective shrines. At 9:15pm, the Goddess' patakhand was placed on rice, followed by a small animal sacrifice. At midnight, a major animal sacrifice was offered at the root of a shimuli tree inside the temple complex. Police deployed one platoon and additional officers from Dharmagarh subdivision to maintain order. Cultural programmes, including music and dance, added colour to the celebration, drawing thousands of devotees from within and outside the district.
