A Bengaluru-bound GoAir plane, carrying more than 130 people, aborted takeoff on Monday at Ahmedabad airport after one of its engine caught fire following a bird strike
 According to a company spokesperson, no emergency evacuation was deemed necessary and another aircraft was later arranged to fly the passengers to their destination

RE-VERIFICATION DEMAND
NGO claims several 'jihadis' made it to Assam NRC

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati
 CLAIMING that 80 lakh illegal immigrants, including "Jihadis", had managed to make it to the updated National Register of Citizens (NRC), an Assam NGO has urged the Supreme Court to order 100% re-verification of the entire NRC process and a probe by a judicial commission.
 In an affidavit, the Assam Public Works (APW), which had first moved the SC seeking the updation of the NRC of 1951, also sought a probe by Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI), National Investigation Agency (NIA) or Enforcement Directorate (ED) into alleged misappropriation of NRC funds.
 "We have prayed before the Supreme Court to go for 100% re-verification of the entire NRC process. We have also prayed for a proper investigation by a Judicial Committee to find the discrepancies in the NRC updation. We said an agency like CBI, NIA or ED be allowed to do the needful investigations to find the misappropriation of various segments of the process," the APW said. It named four alleged "jihadis" stating that they became genuine Indian citizens by virtue of the NRC.
 "Many empty agricultural lands are being transformed overnight into populated villages especially in Barkhetri assembly constituency of Nalbari district in lower Assam. The situation is getting worse as time passes by as the district authority hasn't been able to take the required steps to control the sudden rush," the APW said.

Board defends move of incentivising poor couples

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati
 THE Assam Linguistic Minority Development Board (ALMDB) has defended its move to offer a one-time cash incentive to poor Hindu couples who entered into inter-community marriages.
 ALMDB chairman and former MLA, Alok Kumar Ghose, said the ALMDB is a government entity set up purely for the development of linguistic minorities in Assam.
 "This board is for the development of linguistic minorities. So, the question of keeping the scheme open to Muslims doesn't arise," Ghose told this newspaper.
 The reaction came as the All Assam Minority Students' Union had described the government's move as "divisive" while opposition Congress said the ruling BJP was trying to appease some people ahead of Assembly elections in the state due early next year.
 "You will find plenty of cases where a married Hindu woman or married Hindu couple being deprived of property rights by their families for entering into inter-community marriages. As a result, they suffer a lot but they have the right to live. We want to give them one-time financial assistance so they can earn a living by doing some petty business," Ghose said.
