

'I found Vikram lander'

A 33-year-old techie from Chennai, Shanmuga Subramanian, has achieved a rare feat, finding out the debris of Indian Space Research Organisation's (ISRO) Vikram lander which was dispatched in Chandrayaan 2

SPACE STAR

- Nasa lauded Shan who used lunar images from the space agency's Moon's Lunar Reconnaissance Orbiter and studied them to locate the debris of the lander
- Nasa, in a tweet, confirmed the news and released images of the impact site on Moon's surface
- Both Isro and Nasa were on the lookout for the debris
- Shan, who hails from Madurai is a mechanical engineer, blogger, app developer, QA engineer. When he heard that even Nasa was not able to identify the debris, he took it as a challenge
- Having some idea about the location of the landing, he took a closer look at the particular area in the images with the help of Nasa's telemetry data
- He said in a television interview that he searched the images for almost 7 to 8 hours daily for around four days

Trump plans to slap 100% tariffs on French wine

REUTERS
Washington, 3 December

The US government on Monday said it may slap punitive duties of up to 100 per cent on $2.4 billion in imports from France of Champagne, handbags, cheese and other products, after concluding that France's new digital services tax would harm US tech companies.

The US Trade Representative's office said its "Section 301" investigation found that the French tax was "inconsistent with prevailing principles of international tax policy, and is unusually burdensome for affected US companies," including Alphabet's Google, Facebook, Apple and Amazon.com.

US Trade Representative Robert Lighthizer said the government was exploring whether to open similar investigations into the digital services taxes of Austria, Italy and Turkey. "The USTR is focused on countering the growing protectionism of EU member states, which unfairly targets US companies," Lighthizer said. His statement made no mention of proposed digital taxes in Canada or Britain.

The US trade agency said it would collect public comments through January 14 on its proposed tariff list as well as the option of imposing fees or restrictions on French services, with a public hearing scheduled for January 7.

That I am swearing this affidavit to declare that Umesh Agarwal, S/O - Ganesh Prasad and Umesh Prasad Agarwal, S/O - Ganesh Modi is the same and one identical person in the eye of law and this affidavit may kindly be treated as and when requires by the concerned authority.

XLRI expands footprint, to open Delhi-NCR campus in June 2020

Located in Jhajjar district, 25 km from Gurugram, it will accommodate 240 students in first phase

AVISHEK RAKSHIT
Kolkata, 3 December

XLRI-Xavier School of Management has said it will start its Delhi-National Capital Region (NCR) campus from June next year. In the first phase, two sections of 60 students each for the business management programme (2020-22 batch) will be granted admission at its new campus in Jhajjar, 25 km from Gurugram.

This new state-of-the-art campus, spread over 36.34 acres, is being readied to accommodate 240 students in the first phase. While XLRI-Xavier School of Management will be applying for AICTE certification, the new campus has earned a gold-level green building certification.

The New Delhi campus is expected to have the same pedagogy and curriculum as XLRI-Xavier School of Management, Jamshedpur, and the faculty from the main campus will also take classes at the new campus. Students who get through Xavier Admission Test (XAT) will be able to get admission to XLRI's Delhi-NCR campus. The choice will have to be made while applying for XAT-2020 Entrance Test.

P Christie, director at XLRI-Xavier School of Management, said, "With India slated to become the fifth-largest economy in the world in the near future, there is a concomitant need for more business leaders. XLRI took a strategic decision to expand its footprint across the country and set up new campuses in the north, west, and southern parts of India."

The registration for XAT-2020 has been extended till December 10 and late registration fees have been waived this year.

In January this year, after 70 years of its confinement in the steel city of Jamshedpur, XLRI had laid the foundation stone for its new campus at Amaravati in Andhra Pradesh. This campus, spread across 50 acres, is being set up in the Guntur district in Andhra Pradesh and would accommodate around 5,000 students where postgraduate and undergraduate programmes in management education will be offered.

In October this year, the institute achieved 100 per cent summer internship placement for its batch of 361 students, who were inducted by 86 participating recruiters. The average stipend for the summer internship increased by 12.15 per cent this year to touch ₹1.2 lakh per month, from ₹1.07 lakh per month in 2018. Incidentally, the median stipend offered, too, was ₹1.2 lakh per month, while the highest stipend stood at ₹2.5 lakh per month, which was offered in the banking, financial services and insurance (BFSI) sector.

Eleven first-time recruiters like Bain & Co, Amazon, NIIF, PhonePe, Udaan, Shell, Diageo, Ola, Adani, Rupeek, Kornferry and others had visited the campus offering job roles, besides the regulars. Consulting firms extended offers to 16 per cent of the candidates, sales & marketing, and the BFSI sector constituted 40 per cent and 17 per cent of the roles offered to business management students, respectively.

Other roles included niche functions in analytics, product management, business development, brand management, and strategy. However, it was the e-commerce segment, led by Amazon, which saw the highest jump in internship offers and incidentally, Amazon made the highest number of offers amongst the regular recruiters such as The Boston Consulting Group, Microsoft, P&G, Aditya Birla Group, ITC, Nestlé, Hindustan Unilever, Mondelez, Mahindra & Mahindra, Citibank and others.
